

the right to be heard

5^o World Day of Working Children

*Working Children
protagonists in building
a true solidarity-based economy*

december 2010

the right to be heard

5^o World Day of Working Children

The 9th of December, we are again celebrating the World Day of Working Children.

With their spreading and increasing numbers of groups in the different continents, the Working Children Movements are the concrete testimony that a different world is possible, in which children can be true protagonists in their societies and, especially, of their own lives.

We of ITALIANATs, in celebrating our 10 YEAR of activity, are renewing our commitment in support of the Movements in promoting the rights and the protagonism of working children and adolescents.
